80 Quarter Credits

Why Study Criminal Justice at EWU?

We in the Department of Sociology and Justice Studies believe that a university must educate broadly to enrich both career and life. Accordingly, students in the Criminal Justice program will complete social science foundation courses, as well as core disciplinary courses. The criminal justice major provides students with a variety of skills including critical thinking, oral and written communication, the ability to work effectively in groups and the ability to generate data and conduct basic research, all of which are desired by prospective employers in wide variety of settings.

Other Degree Options

A minor in Criminal Justice is also available.

Also, consider a double major in Sociology and Criminal Justice. A combined Bachelor of Arts degree from the Department of Sociology and Justice Studies offers a broad access to understanding ways to critically synthesize what is learned in the liberal arts program and contemporary criminological inquiry as well as applied course work in sociology and criminal justice. This double major degree allow students to broaden a variety of career paths in sociology and criminal justice.

Career Opportunities

Law Enforcement/Corrections: For those pursuing a career as police officers, parole officers, and correctional officers.

Social Justice: For those pursuing a career in alternative sanctions, rehabilitation, and victim services.
