Theatre BA

Why study Theatre?

In the end, the question is not “why study theatre,” but, “why not?” Getting a degree in any subject, including theatre, is a perfectly valid route to success and happiness if you start by learning the right skills and attitudes.

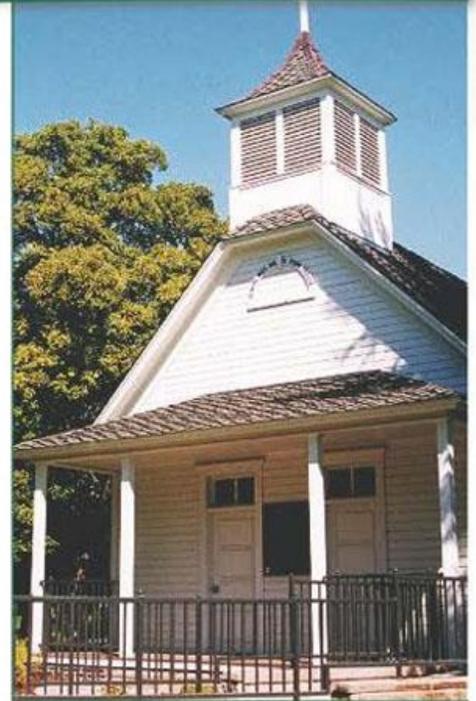

Theatre develops skills and qualities most valued by prospective employers in any field. Those skills and values include, but are not limited to, superb communication, analytical, interpersonal, and collaborative skills. The Theatre program values and cultivates, honesty, integrity and a strong work ethic. Theatre majors receive hands-on instruction and experience in every phase of theatrical production including acting, directing, singing, dancing, costuming, make-up and design and technical

The Theatre Program

The University Theatre is located in the Fine Arts Complex. Our facilities include: a modern 229-seat proscenium theatre, a performance and dance studio, scene shop, and costume shop. Each academic year we produce three main-stage shows ranging from classical to contemporary plays and musicals plus Senior Capstone productions. We consistently collaborate with professional artists as guest Actors, Directors, Choreographers and Designers in the public performance program.
