Music Instrumental Performance BM

89-93 Quarter Credits

Why study Music?

We believe the study of music is a vital component of a Liberal Arts education and illuminates the creative capacity of the human mind and spirit. Music is a central piece of every culture throughout history, and contributes to the health, well-being and balance of humanity. Through music, students develop a multi-layered ability to problem-solve, and to understand human society across all cultures. Music Majors work closely with music faculty, who combine dedicated teaching with artistic and scholarly excellence. Concerts and recitals, both on and off campus are presented by students and faculty throughout each year.

Instrumental Performance

In programs leading to the Bachelor of Music, the department seeks to provide thoroughly professional performing arts training in addition to the requirements set for the liberally educated student. Options under this degree include majors in performance and composition. This course of study presupposes that the student will have a strong pre-college background in musical performance. A performance audition is required for entrance into the program. Scholarship Opportunities: The Music Department has scholarships available to incoming freshman as well as continuing students. For details on audition dates, call 509.359.2241.

Performance and Rehearsal Facilities

Music students enjoy facilities featuring a state of the art piano laboratory with 16 units, 32 practice rooms, electronic music laboratory, technically-enhanced classrooms, and an extensive collection of recordings, scores, and music reference materials.
